

Founded in 1969, the National Health Law Program protects and advances the health rights of low income and underserved individuals. The oldest non-profit of its kind, NHeLP advocates, educates and litigates at the federal and state level.

The care-giving safety net that has propped up health care for the poor and uninsured is breaking apart, as government responsibility cascades from federal to state to local authorities, as health care marketplace consolidation continues largely unregulated and as states are pressured to cut costs and find quick savings. In the midst of these changes, it is critical to focus on preserving health care coverage for those most in need and with fewest resources. NHeLP seeks to provide a seat at the table for representatives of low-income people, to protect consumers in the emerging managed care systems, and to find creative financing solutions that also preserve government's responsibility as provider of last resort.

Learn more about NHeLP, our work, successes and challenges ahead. Click here to watch a series of videos by NHeLP executive director Emily Spitzer at the Arnold Foundation's Giving Library.

giving library™ Watch. Connect. Give.

Sign In | Register

Browse Categories ▾ Organizations About Giving Library

NATIONAL HEALTH LAW PROGRAM

Visit their website

12757 Views

14 Recommendations

PLAY 00:00 MUTE

> Overview Video

Q1 Origin

Q2 Objective

Q3 Leverage Points

Q4 Effectiveness

Q5 Success Metrics

Q6 Misconceptions

Q7 Accomplishments

Q8 Challenges

Q9 Future Planning

Q10 Gaps

National Health Law Program (NHoLP) provides comprehensive information about the program and provides ongoing support and resources to help organizations implement and sustain their services.

2 / 2