

Updated Advocate's Guide to the Medicaid Program (2012)

Since 1986, the Advocate's Guide to the Medicaid Program has been the leading authoritative reference on Medicaid for a quick, convenient way to understand the program. Advocates, policy makers, and others rely on the Guide to ensure that the Medicaid program is implemented as the law intends, and that eligible low-income people can access the services that Medicaid provides.

NHeLP's newly updated fourth edition of the Advocate's Guide is available in hard copy, as well as by online membership and features interactive web features, such as live updates and user forums.

The updated Guide incorporates the Affordable Care Act (2010), 2012 Supreme Court ruling and major developments in Medicaid law over the past year and a half. The Guide also covers Medicaid administration, eligibility, and services, and includes comprehensive references to sources of Medicaid law and rules, including the United States Constitution, the Medicaid Act, Medicaid regulations, federal guidance documents, and federal and state court case law.

Support for this guide was provided by a grant from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.

Children's Health Under Medicaid: A National Review of Early Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment - 1999-2003 (May 2005) $45.00

Children's Health Under Medicaid presents national EPSDT trend data from FY 1999-2003. In addition, state-by-state charts show EPSDT performance from FY 1999-2003, reporting on such measures as medical, dental, and lead screening rates, as well as referrals for corrective treatment. This is the 3rd edition of the chartbook, which NHeLP began publishing in 1998 and revised in 2002.

Section I of the chartbook provides a brief overview to the EPSDT program, federal EPSDT requirements, and the value of preventive care.

Section II summarizes national findings and provides innovations and recommendations for improving EPSDT screening and reporting.

Sections III and IV contain state profiles and individual state charts for fiscal years 1999 through 2003.
